

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.

MONDAY, MAY 21, 1906.

Tillman's "orphan suckling" rate bill, has been reported for the last time.

Senator Dillingham voted yes and Senator Proctor was absent when the rate bill was voted on in the Senate last Friday afternoon.

The Northfield weather bureau reports that last Friday was warmer than any day last summer by one-tenth of one degree. That was evident for the rain on the stores for straw hats, but the mufflers came out again yesterday.

The Bennington county W. C. T. U. has unanimously endorsed Mrs. Ida Read of Shelburne, president of the state organization, expressing its belief that she has been unkindly and unjustly treated by the Burlington Humane society. Although no facts are given, this action, we trust, is based on a more thorough knowledge than that of the Barre union which recently censured Mrs. Read. The public, however, would like to know whether Mrs. Read really drove with her husband from Shelburne to Burlington, as charged, behind a horse which used one of its ankle-joints for a foot all the way because its ankle was too weak to support its weight.—Brattleboro Reformer.

There needs to be a slight correction in The Reformer's statement. The Barre W. C. T. U. did not censure Mrs. Read. On the contrary it was one of the first to ask the public to suspend judgment until such time as the real facts of the case should become known. It was the Richmond W. C. T. U. which voted to censure the president of the state organization—an action, as The Times stated, that was hasty and ill-advised, inasmuch as those censuring had no information except the first newspaper account of the affair. We make this statement to put the Ida Read W. C. T. U. of Barre in the proper light.

A LEGAL BLUNDER.

A grave injustice was done apparent under the name and guise of Justice last week when a man, presumably innocent, was arrested on the charge of murder in connection with the death of Mabel Page at Weston, Mass., and for whose murder Charles L. Tucker is now under sentence of death. The arrest was made because of the exploits of a newspaper which has been active in slaying the death sentence. When Hayes, the suspect, was arraigned no one appeared to testify against him and in fact there was no evidence except the statement of Hayes himself, while drunk, that was taken to be incriminating. As there was not one particle of evidence besides that, on which the suspect could be held, the prison doors were opened and he walked out to his freedom after only a day or so of confinement to be sure, but with all the opprobrium which attaches to one for having been arrested on so serious a charge. There was a miserable blunder in his arrest. A certain notoriety-seeking newspaper sent one of its sleuths on a still hunt and the sleuth ran down a statement made by a happy-go-lucky lumberman in Maine that might have been made by any man in an intoxicated state. The sleuth got an easy-going Maine justice of the peace to swear out a warrant for the lumberman's arrest, and then all that the sheriff could do was to place the suspect in prison.

Now the suspect has been released. The blunder of course lay in the precipitate action of the Maine justice in swearing out a warrant on so slight a pretext as the urging of a representative of the yellow journal. It is perhaps impossible for the yellow journal to be huzzled, but it will not be out of place to warn easy-going justices of the peace to be on their guard against them.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Varying Degrees.

Hicks—What do you think of that university making Dunley a Doctor of Laws?

Wicks—Oh, well, the universities do very crazy things sometimes.

Hicks—Yes, and yet they're always supposed to be in possession of their faculties.—Catholic Standard.

Two of a Kind.

Mr. Plahoad was worth eighty millions, Miss Nothingnutt had eighty-two. Why do cash and spondulicks get married?

Spondulicks and cash always do! —Late.

Placidity.

"Why don't you cultivate a placid and contented disposition?"

"Because," answered the energetic person, "I am too industrious to be placid and not sufficiently egotistical to be contented."—Washington Star.

DREAMING.

Dreaming, just dreaming, as bedtime draws nigh,
Dreaming while, one by one, twilight's rays die:

Dreaming, just dreaming—that's all,
I see a farmhouse perched upon a hill,
I hear the song of the weird whip-poor-will;

I see a youngster, barefooted—just Bill,
Dreaming, just dreaming—that's all.

Then there's a mother I've not known for years,
Smoothing Bill's pillow and drying his tears;
Once more a cradle song floats to my ears.

Dreaming, just dreaming—that's all,
And there's a father, now o'er the divide,
Sorrow I see for Bill—heart strings untied;

Next there are two little mounds side by side,
Dreaming, just dreaming—that's all.

Dreaming—I love to look back home again;
Though it brings heart-aches, it's worth all the pain;
In it is rest for a tired old brain.

Dreaming, just dreaming—that's all,
It lets me live as a youngster once more,
Mother returns from that faraway shore;

Dreaming—it opens life's happiest door,
Dreaming, just dreaming—that's all.
—Denver Post.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY TIMES

FARMERS,

None know as well as you the necessity of change of seed for securing the LARGEST crops of BEST Potatoes. Your own crops were so meager last year that we were lately compelled to order a carload (500 bushels) from Michigan's matchless crop. They have come and they are beauties—the mealy Round White and the Long White from Michigan's matchless soil. The quality of these is not excelled and you would tire your best horse looking for their equal for your Seed this year. It will pay you to sell what you have reserved for seed and buy these. Price $2.50 per bag. The present shortage will help make them go exceptionally fast. Call, phone or drop postal.

DO IT NOW

Rent one of our Safe Deposit Boxes. The cost is trifling—about one cent a day—and surely the feeling that your valuable papers, deeds, insurance policies, notes and securities are safe is worth many times that amount.

Valuable papers should not be left lying around in desks or closets at home where they may easily be lost or, in case of fire, burned, when it costs so little to keep them under lock and key in one of our Safe Deposit Boxes.

The boxes in which we store papers are made of heavy tin, and fit snugly into a steel box with a lock on the door that requires the key of the renter to open. No one else can have access to it and the protection is certain.

We are always pleased to show our Safe Deposit Boxes and if you are interested come in and talk the matter over. Open daily from 9 to 5, Monday evenings, 7 to 9.
